November 13-15, 2008
(Boston, Massachusetts)

CALL FOR PAPERS, PANELS, AND PARTICIPATION

The Northeastern Political Science Association will hold its 40th annual meeting on November 13-15, 2008 at the Omni Parker House Hotel in Boston, Massachusetts.

We invite paper, panel, and roundtable submissions from academics, graduate students, journalists, and practitioners.

Proposals for papers, panels, or to serve as a chair and/or discussant must be submitted before June 15, 2008 through the NPSA submission website at:

<http://convention2.allacademic.com/one/npsa/npsa08/>

[Once on the submission website, create a username and password and then follow the instructions for submitting an individual paper or panel proposal. The website can also be accessed through the NPSA website.]

POLITICAL THEORY

ANCIENT AND MEDIEVAL POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY

Inquiries related to paper and/or panel proposals on all aspects ancient (Greek, Roman) and medieval (Jewish, Christian, Islamic) political philosophy should be directed to the Section Chair:

Dustin A. Gish
College of the Holy Cross
301 Fenwick Hall
Worcester, MA 01604
dgish@holycross.edu

The following note accompanies the announcement:

Those who are interested in submitting a paper or panel proposal can do so through the on-line system (see the brief instructions, also attached here). However, it would help if SGPT members contact me directly, in addition to registering and submitting a proposal on-line, to express their interest in joining one of the SGPT-sponsored panels. Advance notice of interest and intent to submit a paper or panel proposal will help me to anticipate on-line submissions and to begin organizing full panels.

Thanks for the help in circulating the CFP as widely as possible.

Best Regards,
Dustin

On-Line Submission Instructions for Paper and Panel Proposals

1. Register yourself on-line (<http://convention3.allacademic.com/one/npsa/npsa08/>) by creating a Username and Password; follow the “Create a New Account” link which is located below the normal log-in box.
2. Once you have registered, enter your Username and Password to log-in. (If you need to change your personal information or institutional affiliation, click on the link to “Edit Personal Contact Information” in the first screen that appears after you log-in.)
3. Once you have logged-in, click on the link to “Submit or Edit a Proposal”.
4. Click on the link to “Submit a New Proposal”.
5. Click on the link to “POLITICAL THEORY”; then click on the link to “ANCIENT AND MEDIEVAL POLITICAL PHILOSOPHY”.

<<At any point in the submission process, if a mistake has been made, click on the link in the upper left tab to go “Back”; do not use the Back button of your internet browser.>>

6. To submit an Individual Proposal, click on the link to “Paper”; to submit a Session Proposal, click on the link to “Panel”.

When submitting a paper, you must provide both a Paper Title and brief Abstract. (If the paper is intended as part of an organized panel session, please indicate the subject of the panel session in the “Special Requests” area.)

When submitting a panel, you must provide both a Session Title and an Abstract. Once the title and abstract of the panel have been entered, you must click on the link to “Add a Paper” in order to add each paper title and then author, separately. (To attach a name to a paper, “Search” the database of registered participants and “Add” the author.) Discussant/s and a chair, if known, can also be added to the proposal.

For co-authored papers, both authors must register; however, it is only necessary for one author to submit a proposal. The co-author can be formally added to the proposal at the end of the submission process: “Search” the database of registered participants by last name, and then “Add” the co-author.

7. Click on the link to “Accept and Continue”. You will be able to review (and, if necessary, “Edit”) your entire proposal, before final confirmation. If there are no changes to be made, click the link to “Accept and Continue” again. The next screen will confirm that your proposal has been submitted, and an email confirmation will be generated and sent to your email account automatically.

To make changes to your proposal – and to upload the paper when it is ready – log-in on-line and click on the link to “Submit or Edit a Proposal”; locate the paper or panel proposal in the next screen, and click on the link to “Edit” (or “Delete”).
